YOUNG LADS CHARGED WITH BURGLARY TELL OF DEEDS

Say That Stolen Goods are Stored in Old Coal Bank in Charleroi

BEING HELD FOR COURT

Both are Said to Have Been Guilty of Numerous Crimes in Monessen

Admitting that they were guilty of burglary, and declaring that the store house of their stolen goods is on the hill at Eighth street, Charleroi, two Polish boys about 12 years old, were held for court by Justice of the Peace Watkins at Monessen yesterday afternoon. The boys were Paul Yenchick, and Tommy Pávic. Both of the boys have criminal records, it is stated, and the second named one has recently returned from the county jail at Greensburg, where he was held in connection with robbery at Safier's store at Monessen some time ago. The Yenchick boy escaped from this by reason of his parents paying for part of the goods and the roasts. The robbery with which the two boys are charged is that of the confectionary store of Leo Economy, near the Star Theatre, Monessen, on Thursday night. It is supposed that they attended the Star Theatre for the last show, and then secreted themselves in the rear alley, breaking open the place later. A quantity of cigars, candies, cigarettes and a number of other things were taken and then conveyed to a rendezvous on the hill at Monessen, where the plunder was they immediately suspected the two boys, and investigation gave them further evidence that they were the two really guilty. They were arrested at the homes of their parents, although protests were made and the officers threatened.

The charges against the boys are forcible entry and larceny. Their bail, which they were unable to furnish, was placed at $200, in default of which they were taken to Greensburg this morning. The store house here is said to be at an old coal bank on Eighth street and an investigation is to be made, likely this afternoon. The boys it is thought, with others, have been in the past year or so, carrying on a series of burglaries, and it is intimated that many charges might be stacked up against them.

Temporary Organization.

A temporary organization of a choral society was formed at a meeting at the M. E. church last night. The organization will be perfected at a meeting to be held next Thursday evening at that place. The singers of all the churches of Charleroi, Belle Vernon and Monessen are invited to be present. W. S. James the choir director of the M. E. church choir is the moving spirit in the society, and will be the director. No officers were elected last night, these to be chosen at a future meeting.

Congressman Tener at Punxsutawney

Is Among the Honor Guests at Merriest Feature of Old Home Week

Congressman J. K. Tener of Charleroi was among the honor guests at Punxsutawney yesterday at the Seventh Annual Banquet of the Punxsutawney Groundhog club, an affair that was one of the principal features of Old Home Week. Ormand of Princeton University.

SURPRISE AT PRODUCTION OF LETTERS

Commonwealth in Bank Conspiracy Case Plays a Good Part

WERE CONCERNING NOTES

A decided sensation was caused in the Ward Drum trial yesterday when the Commonwealth introduced two letters which evidently came as a surprise. These letters are considered among the strongest pieces of evidence yet offered in the case being built up against the former cashier of the bank of Coal Centre and the Pittsburgh real estate man and promoter.

Much time was consumed yesterday in untangling the ways employed in the extensive note system by which it is alleged Ward and Drum defrauded the bank to the extent of thousands of dollars. Expert accountants, bank examiners and former employees of Ward, who had been engaged in the securing of signers for these alleged worthless notes were the principal witnesses of the day.

A. K. Young, a former employee in the Standard Car and Foundry company was the first note witness and he identified many of the notes which he himself had signed and which persons financially irresponsible had signed at his request.

Causing Trouble.

The new Lincoln penny is causing all kinds of trouble throughout the country. The first kick came from the penny-in-the-slot machines people, who found the new penny would not work in the machines, and now comes the telephone companies with a howl that a Lincoln penny will work perfectly in their nickel slot machines, much to their loss. As no change can be made in the design of a coin within less than 25 years, it looks as though the coinage would have to cease or the slot machine people would have to make changes in their machines.

DIABOLICAL SCHEME FOR ROBBERY OF COUNTRYMEN

Monongahela Italian is Committed to Jail to Await a Court Trial on Charge of Highway Robbery

The commitment of Tony Calisto to the county jail last evening brought to light a system of blackmail by which Italians of the Monongahela valley have been robbed of hundreds and perhaps thousands of dollars. The revelations were not made until after Pasquale Giamjira, one of Calisto's alleged victims nearly had his eyes gouged out because he refused to pay $50 for personal protection. It was he that preferred the charge against Calisto.

WIRING CONTRACT AWARDED TO FIRM OF MONONGAHELA

Seventy-Five New Houses Being Erected Now at Marianna

The McCurdy Hardware and Supply company of Monongahela has been awarded the contract for the electric wiring of seventy five houses, now in course of erection at Marianna, by the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company. Work on the contract has already been taken up by the company, and will be pushed with all speed to completion. The work will require a large amount of wire, as well as other materials. The work of wiring will be pushed as rapidly as the construction of the houses will permit, although it is not expected they will be completed until some time in the fall. The Pittsburgh-Buffalo company also expects to build many more houses at that point, for the accommodation of their miners, their number increasing as rapidly as the working of the mine will permit. The houses are of high grade, and away beyond the ordinary tenement to which the people of the river district are accustomed.

PASTOR AND WIFE TREATED TO SURPRISE

Picnic Held on Date of Their Thirteenth Anniversary of Marriage

DAY WAS ONE OF PLEASURE

The Presbyterian Sunday school held an old fashioned picnic yesterday in Emman's Grove, near Charleroi. The day was enjoyed by the school and the picnic crowd and the attractions were kept busy until the tickets were exhausted. At the conclusion of the "merry-go-round" and the roller-coaster, the contests began with the baseball throw for ladies. This was won by Mrs. D. Davis of Lock 4. The 50-yard dash for men was won by Andy Allhouse. The 50-yard dash for ladies by Miss Isabella Wilson, the 50 yard race for boys by Clarence Lewis, the 50 yard dash for girls by Miss Thelma Duval.

There was rather a surprise, when the announcement was made that the date was the thirteenth anniversary of the marriage of Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Hackett. Rev. Baker of Belle Vernon was present, and a mock marriage ceremony was performed. Rev. and Mrs. Hackett, were made the recipients of beautiful presents. One of the guests present yesterday, Mrs. Elizabeth Craig, took with her an invitation to Rev. Hackett's wedding thirteen years ago and it was read. Meeting Called for Monday Afternoon in Pittsburg Coal Offices

HOPED TO SETTLE TROUBLE

State Mining Men Will be Present to Take Part in This Special Session

National President T. L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has again taken a hand in the powder controversy of the miners of the Pittsburg Coal company and has issued a call for a meeting of the powder committee for Monday afternoon at the offices of the Pittsburg Coal company. Miners, operators and representatives of the State Mining Department will attend.

Fifteen mines of the Pittsburg Coal company are idle because the miners refuse to use the so-called safety explosives provided for by law, unless they be paid on a run-of-mine basis. The mines affected are along the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, the Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Youghiogheny and the P. V. and C. railroads. From the same controversy mines of other companies along the Monongahela and Youghiogheny rivers are closed down, and it is understood that other companies having large holdings in the district are holding off to learn the result of the conference, until they too declare that carbonite must be used on other than the run of mine basis.

Officers of the Pittsburg Coal company say that they are merely carrying out the law.

That Garbage Wagon.

While people have been complaining of the garbage wagon nuisance existing in Charleroi for some time, and the Mail has been defending them in their complaints, there has been very little said of the old garbage wagon. It was stated last spring and generally accepted as fact that this affair for which the taxpayers of Charleroi had paid a snug sum of money, was worn out—has been left exposed to all kinds of weather and rusted until it was of no practical use. Yes, it was worn out all right—a small portion of wood under the bed was broken. It has been repaired and is now in apparently as good condition as far as usefulness is concerned as at the date of its purchase. The affair now rests in a nook of the borough building.

The main trouble with this wagon and it may be stated in justification of the garbage man's claims, is that it is entirely a wagon for hauling what may be termed "slop." There is no place for the accommodation of barrels or such like on the wagon, and it is argued that the job is not one that will warrant the making of two trips to a place, simply to get what might be carried in one load. That doesn't solve the problem, however, and doesn't provide relief for the people, who must "smell and suffer." The garbage man is under contract to handle garbage in an improved and sanitary manner. It is the place of the Health Officer and the board of health to see that the laws regarding sanitation are obeyed, and if they are not, to see that the offenders are punished. It has been mentioned that in some places the ordinary wagon is used, containing a water-tight bed with high sides and that over this there are lids that may be closed down or opened as the case may be. Such would permit the conveying of not only the ordinary refuse but could also be utilized for the hauling of barrels and other articles. This would seem to be the only method of providing a means of relief that would be satisfactory to all.

The Strike Situation.

The National Labor Tribune published at Pittsburg advises the strike leaders at McKees Rocks to rely on court proceedings against Mr. Hoffstot who has already been charged with peonage, and to use every endeavor to prevent further slaughter.

It publishes the following common sense editorial concerning the strike: "We are assured the more responsible leaders recognize the disastrous effect of violence on the strike. The difficulty is to check the hotheads. Men who have suffered real injury and who are faced by starvation because they dared to ask that their wrongs be righted, are not easily held in bounds. There is much that tends to drive them to desperation, nevertheless they must be given to understand by their best and most trusted advisers that resistance to the lawful authorities is bound to be fatal. They and not Mr. Hoffstot will suffer most from it in the end."

The First.

What was mere rumor of a month ago concerning the industrial improvements to be made at Newell, is now a known fact. The contract for the construction of two buildings has been awarded and actual work will begin in a few days. In connection with a discussion of these improvements, it is not out of place to say that the first announcement of the intentions of the General Chemical company to erect the large plants at Newell was made in the Mail. Not another newspaper in the country had the least inkling of it up until the time that the Mail unearthed it, and set it going. Since then prediction has rounded into fact, and the Mail's prophesy in regard to the plant has been verified. This only illustrates the fact that the Mail has better news service than any paper the size in the valley, and is better equipped for the securing of news that is strictly new. There are some more improvements to be made along the valley in the near future that will make considerable of a change. Announcement has already been made of these and people are watching for further developments.

Electric Sparks

The New Castle Herald states that "Beaver Falls is nearly frantic about its garbage collection," but evidently forgot that Charleroi is worse than frantic.

STRAWS BLOW SAME OLD WAY

Democrats Worried Over Encouraging Situation Following Adoption of the New Tariff Act

EXPLODED IDEAS ADVANCED

State Democracy in Cowardly Fashion Resorts to Subterfuge of Expression in Its Tariff Plank—Magnitude of Senator Penrose's Labors Appreciated.

The new tariff law seems to be a source of unmitigated distress to William Jennings Bryan. He does not approve of the customs schedules and he claims to have a copyright on the corporation tax idea.

The Pennsylvania Democracy in its recent convention at Harrisburg declared in its platform that the new tariff law was an imposition upon the consumer and wage-earner, and in direct violation of the promises of the Republican party and its platform, and that it was framed for the benefit of special interests and against those who purchased the necessities of life. This declaration is absolutely false in every particular, and is, in fact, a declaration in favor of a tariff for revenue only. But, as The Keystone Gazette of Bellefonte wisely remarks, the Pennsylvania Democracy resorted to a subterfuge of expression because it was too cowardly to clearly commit the party to free trade.

Straws indicate the way in which the wind blows. The distress of Bryan and the false declaration made by the Democracy of this Commonwealth are straws indicative of the latest futile effort the Democrats will attempt with the expectation of resuscitating their party and redeeming it from the false gods it has been worshipping for the last half century. The Democrats are trying to make a handle out of the opposition of the so-called "progressive" Republicans in urging that the Republican party's promises concerning the tariff should be redeemed in revising the tariff downward. But the fact still remains that no promise was made in the Republican platform, or by the Republican party as a whole, to revise the tariff in any way except upon protective lines and the revision that has actually occurred has been upon protective lines; in other words, the protective feature in the new tariff measure provides for the difference between the cost of production in other countries and the United States, adding thereto a reasonable profit to the manufacturer in this country.

As The Bellefonte Gazette further remarks: "The history of protective legislation in this country has conclusively shown that a protective tariff has cheapened the price of all manufactured articles to the consumer. Before the policy of protection became a fundamental principle, accepted by a majority of the people of the Nation and was enacted into law, all imported goods, when our markets were controlled by European nations, cost the consumer from one to three and four times what they do now. Cotton goods, hardware, steel and in fact everything we as a people imported, cost fully three or four times as much as they do now, while our agricultural products brought, on the average, less than one-half what the farmer now realizes on the results of his labor. The competition created by our own mills and manufacturing has in a few years reduced the price to the consumer and the tariff duty was, and is in reality, paid by the exporter, as he has to take a smaller price for the wares and merchandise he exports. So to declare that the tariff is a tax on the consumer is not true, but is the same cry that the free trade Democracy has been making for the past 60 years, and the Pennsylvania Democracy, under the disguise of persiflage and verbiage commits itself to the old Bourbon Democratic idea of free trade."

The tariff measure now on the statute books, as has been stated, is a revision of the tariff in exact fulfillment of the promises and platform of the Republican party. It was revised on the principles of protection to American labor and American industry, and for the benefit and welfare of the whole country. Already its beneficial effects are being realized by the starting into active operation of the mills and manufacturing and the enlargement of the same. Increased employment to thousands of working men and women.

That such a satisfactory tariff law is now in force and effect is due in no small measure to the unwearied and intelligent efforts put forth by Senator Boies Penrose, who in his position as the third member of the Senate Finance committee was the most potent adviser of Chairman Aldrich during the consideration of this important legislation and whose advice was sought by many others.

Senator Penrose occupied this conspicuous position because for over two months he devoted from 16 to 18 hours every day to investigation and study of the various schedules of the bill, and in meeting interested delegates of manufacturers and workers he met every one who claimed to discuss the bill with him and listened patiently to all arguments for and against its different provisions. In this way he made a record for hard work and came to be considered as one of the most methodical, studious and efficient Senators. With Senator Penrose on guard the varied interests of Pennsylvania will always be properly looked after.

During the last regular session of Congress Senator Penrose, as chairman of the Postoffice and Post Roads committee, had charge of the Postal Appropriation bill which carried an appropriation of $234,000,000, and which he succeeded in having passed finally in less than four hours' time. He understood the provisions of this great bill so thoroughly and had the measure so well in hand that he was able to answer all questions asked by the several Senators with such tact and clearness that the time consumed for its consideration was a record for this class of legislation.

When a Senator can call up a bill carrying an appropriation of the size of this one and pass it finally in less than four hours, his colleagues must have undoubted faith in his integrity and his standing must be unquestioned.

Briefly, as The Dispatch & Republican of Mercer sums it up, "Senator Penrose has a masterly mind, a strong and vigorous constitution and a high conception of his responsibilities. His State and country will receive at all times at his hands paramount consideration."

Some Consolation.

A detective once said it was all wrong to suppose that the professional housebreaker works with coolness and calculation. On the contrary, he usually works in terror and haste, takes too much swag from one room and too little from another and sometimes overlooks the silver in carrying off the electro.—London Saturday Review.

Olden Tea-Table Etiquette.—"Tea-table etiquette" was somewhat complicated in the days of that hardened and shameless tea drinker, "Dr. Johnson, when many people thought nothing of drinking ten or twelve cups at a sitting. It was considered proper for the cups and saucers of a party of tea drinkers to be all passed up to the hostess in one batch when replenishment was considered necessary, and in order that each person might be sure of getting back the right cup the teaspoons were numbered. When the cups were passed up those who did not require any more were supposed to place the spoon in the cup. And this writer remembers a very ancient dame teaching a small boy to place his spoon in his cup after the first cup had been emptied. He wondered for the reason. Now he knows that tea was once very expensive, and little boys were not expected to ask again.—St. James' Gazette.

Private Hospital Guests.

"Hello, old man! Didn't know you were in New York? Where are you stopping?"

"Glad to see you. I'm at a private hospital uptown."

"Private hospital? Why, I'm sorry. What's the trouble?"

"No trouble at all myself. My sister went there for an operation, and I'm staying with her. There are plenty of patients there with relatives or friends. We pay high prices, of course, but the rooms are light, comfortable and clean, and we can order anything on earth we want for meals and get it. Things are sorted to us as though we were invalids, and there's no klick coming. I'll tell you that. And we can have as much company as we wish for meals at a dollar and a half a head."—New York Press.

The Sneeze.

There exists an ancient semi-medical statement which tells us that the sneeze is healthy and should not be suppressed. It is one of those stock sayings which are always uttered by laymen on the vague authority of some traditional doctor whose name is suppressed in favor of the adjective "ancient." It is one of the things about which you mentally pledge yourself to ask your own doctor, but when it comes to the point you never do. Either you do not get the opportunity or if a chance does present itself an inner voice seems to warn you to let it be until some future occasion. To our own mind the odds are that sneezing is a wholesome habit, for it is an essential one. Of course there are people who can sneeze and not look ridiculous, but they are few. Any one caught in the act of trying to suppress a sneeze is a terrible addition to the landscape, and if you want to sneeze and cannot what gargle could hold a candle to you? That hideously contorted face, that quivering mouth and that deflected nostril—why, your countenance is something worth briding two cathedrals round! It is as though some mad poster were gripping your facial clay and wrenching it this way and that to amuse his frenzied humor. Have you ever heard a succession of half a dozen sneezes? It is an experience that has an extraordinarily irritating effect.—London Globe.

A Spa's Curious Origin.

The discovery of the famous Woodhall spa in Lincolnshire was very curious. Just about a hundred years ago a shaft was sunk in search of coal, but the effort had to be abandoned owing to a rush of water. In time the water found its way into a small brook, and in due course the inhabitants began to speak of the curative powers of the stream. Science investigated the mystery and discovered that the water in the coalfield shaft was richly impregnated with various salts and bromine and iodine. Geologists expressed the interesting opinion that ages ago the place was the sandy bed of a shallow lagoon or bay of a tropical sea where seaweeds of giant growth abounded. A mighty convulsion of nature lowered the sea bed, a great river flowed over the place, and in time its debris was formed into a mass of spongy rock or sandstone. Forcing itself through this mass at great pressure some 600 feet below the ground, the water now extracts the constituents of the original seaweed.—London Family Herald.

Beauty Baths.

A most excellent tonic bath is the salt bath. Before retiring at night dissolve a cupful of sea salt in hot water and when you rise next morning fill the tub half full of water and add the sea salt being. You will emerge from your morning plunge in a perfect glow after a brisk rub with a coarse towel. Every nerve will tingle, and you will see a soft rosy glow on the skin.

A cheesecloth bag filled with a pound of oatmeal and twisted in a warm "tub" gives splendidly restful and head-clearing results.

The only conclusive evidence of a man's sincerity is that he give himself for a principle.—Lowell.

SEVEN YEARS AHEAD

The manager of one of the greatest typewriter companies in the world, said to Mr. Douglas of Douglas College, recently

"You are seven years ahead of the schools around Pittsburg in teaching typewriting. They are just now adopting the methods that you were using seven years ago."

It is worth repeating, for everyone does not know it, that Douglas College now holds the State Championship in Typewriting. It was their modern methods that won over the old.

But how about today?

The same methods are employed—with seven years of ADDED experience. Douglas graduates can do a third more work by our scientific methods of operating the machine without any strain of the eyes, than can those that use the old sight method. Isn't it worth while to get the best?

By taking this course you can get a good position

The demand for capable young men and young women will soon be far in excess of the supply. Mr. Adams, manager of the Douglas College, does not expect to be able to fill the positions that will be open in the near future for graduates of the College.

Is the best too good for you?

For the ambitious young man or young woman this is the time for action. Wishing will not accomplish anything. It's work that wins. You can improve your condition if you will. Enter school now and be ready to accept a good position when the opportunity is presented.

HANDICAPPED

This is the Case with Charleroi People.

Too many Charleroi citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stopping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Can you doubt Charleroi evidence?

Mrs. Charles Bromwick, 714 Washington avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "About two years ago I suffered from a severe attack of kidney disease and although I used many remedies I was unable to obtain relief. My head ached almost constantly. I

THE WHOLE ORCHESTRA

Man Not Even the Second Fiddle Nor Drummer.

Professor Emil Hetch in his work on "Woman Through All the Ages," delicately insinuates that in American life she is "the whole orchestra." He says:

"These women—the American maid and wife—are fundamentally different from their sisters in Europe, whether by the past or present. Far from taking the slightest interest in man, they look down upon him. Man in America plays neither first nor second fiddle. He does not even beat the drum. He is the mere accompanist of the orchestra of life in the United States."

Nothing is more common in the States than to be asked by one of their "bright" women: "How do you do this or that thing? What trick have you for doing it?" In their minds, in their innermost minds, they are firmly convinced that "all the great artists have their tricks" with which they work upon the audience. In native elemental talent they do not believe at all. How could they? They have themselves not the trace of such talent.

There are over 12,000,000 pianos in American houses, used mostly by women, yet there is not a single American pianist of even the third order. There are thousands of schools for American women, yet there is not a single American woman of note as a scholar.

I calmly state that the American woman is not and cannot be anything like the type of womanhood that, from the Hellenes downward, all European nations have considered as the right model. Women, then, in America cannot develop and have never developed that peculiar charm of either beauty or grace that in Europe has always been held to be the greatest power of women.

The last word, then, in American womanhood is this, that they represent actually what the ancient Greek myths (if myths they be represented symbolically—a realm of amazons grafted upon a realm of man. The old Greek amazon is, indeed, the oldest archetype of the woman of the United States.

SUMMER HEADACHES.

Cure Them by Reducing Amount of Meat Eaten.

The warm weather is very conducive to headaches. In fact, some people claim they feel the heat so that they become easily fatigued and irritable. Unless these people take very good care of themselves they very easily acquire the habit of neuralgia and suffer throughout the summer months. The sun may cause one head to ache by bringing the blood into it too strongly, but the average headache is had pains in my back and was tired nearly all the time. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I procured a box at Piper Bros. drug store. In a very few days I felt their beneficial effect and a continued use of the remedy effected a complete cure. I have had no return of kidney trouble since and am consequently glad to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

WOMEN WANT TO FLY.

But Only One So Far Has Invented Her Own Machine.

Interest in the science of flying has not been confined to men. Women also have taken to aerial navigation with enthusiasm. But, as the aeroplane still remains a thing of questionable safety, few of them have been allowed to take the risk. It is interesting to know, says Vogue, that it was a woman, Mrs. Alexander Graham Bell, who conceived the idea of forming the Aerial Experiment association, of which her husband was the most conspicuous member. Mrs. Bell suggested the formation of the association and made the proposition to furnish the funds with which to carry on the experiments.

More than fifty women in this country have made ascents in spherical balloons, but Mrs. C. J. S. Miller of Franklin, Pa., holds the record of being the only woman to go up in a dirigible. Wilbur Wright has taken up six women, including his sister, Miss Katherine Wright. Mrs. Leon Bollee, Mrs. Lazar Weller, Countess Lambert and Mrs. Hart Berg. While staying in Paris Miss Anne Morgan witnessed a flight and immediately asked Mr. Wright to take her up, but at that time it was not considered safe to do so. Miss Morgan is deeply interested in the subject, and it is said that she wishes to form an aeronautical club.

Miss E. L. Todd of New York is the first woman to invent an aeroplane. She now has her machine ready for the installment of the motor and expects to drive it herself. Among other prominent American women who have made ascensions in spherical balloons are Mrs. Cortland Field Bishop, Mrs. Newbold Le Roy Edgar of New York, Mrs. C. A. Cody of Chicago, and Miss Natalie Forbes, daughter of A. Holland Forbes. Mrs. Cody, who is an enthusiastic navigator of the air, declares that she felt less alarm in making her first balloon ascent than she did when taking her first automobile ride.

Mrs. Pankhurst to Come Here. To add to the excitement of the war for and against votes for women which is to be waged in New York next winter word has just come from England by cable to Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch that the redoubtable Mrs. Pankhurst, originator of the suffragette movement in England and leader of its most militant branch, will visit America at that time. She will do so, that is, if she is not sent to jail first. She is at present involved in a lawsuit as to the right of a subject to petition the premier in person, and her friends expect her to go to jail in the end, but they hope that she will manage to get to America first.

Mrs. Pankhurst will remain in the country six or seven weeks, and while in New York her engagements will be managed by the League of Self Supporting Women, of which Mrs. Blatch is president. Among other things there will be a Carnegie hall meeting in her honor.

Handy Cooking Utensil.

A Fuel Saving Device That Cooks Three Vegetables at Once. Time, money and space are saved by the cooking utensils designed by an Ohio man, and all housekeepers will readily understand the merits of this article by merely glancing at the illustration. This utensil consists of a steppan with three separate compartments in which three vegetables may be cooked at once over one lid of a stove or one flame of a gas range. The pan comprises a skeleton frame of bottom and top hoops and side bars and three receptacles, one taking up half of the capacity and the others being quarters. Each of these receptacles has a clip which fits over the rim of the frame and by which it may be lifted into place or out again. As each of these vessels is separate it is not necessary that the vegetables to be cooked in them require the same length of time. As one is done the partition can be lifted out. Such a utensil when used on a gas stove uses up only one-third as much gas as under ordinary conditions.

FASHIONABLE ROMPING.

English Lament on the Decay of Deportment.

It is all very well to hold up the hands in horror at the romping in fashionable ballrooms—and no doubt the lack of grace therein displayed is deplorable, says the Lady's Pictorial—but one must give people what they want. They will not come and tread stately measures, but they will romp, and one must find maintain, therefore, that those hostesses are wise who try to make their guests enjoy themselves.

After all, we do not invite our friends to our houses in order to teach them deportment. It seems practically useless to give a dance at all this season unless a cotillon with absolutely novel figures is included in the program.

Now, the cotillon is not a dance, strictly speaking. You can chase, run, skip, leap, through it if you like. It does not make for elegance. Yet there is no question about it. It is indispensable this season, and to this favor we must come if when we pipe in our guests we expect them to dance at all.

Child's Allowance.

To encourage children to save money give them as many pennies each week as they are years old and allow them to save it. When each has saved $5 put it in a bank and add to it each year. It is a very little beginning, but children with money in a real bank are very desirous of adding more to it. By the time the little folks are grown there will be a good bank account, which will be helpful during college days.

Woman's World

TO HEAD SCHOOL SYSTEM.

First Woman to Be Chosen Superintendent of Chicago Schools.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, former principal of the Chicago Normal school, has recently been chosen by the school board of the Windy City as superintendent of schools to succeed E. G. Cooley, resigned.

This is the first time a woman in the United States has held such a position, and Mrs. Young by her recent appointment has been promoted from a position paying $5,000 to one to which a salary of $10,000 is attached.

In an interview the newly elected superintendent expressed her pleasure at being the first woman to hold such a position and outlined her policy as one of unification of all interests. "When I first began teaching," she said in speaking of her work, "I made the mistake of supposing that every day I should do something in the line of study and reading outside my regular work. I found out, however, that a continual press of extra work and social engagements not only rushed me in everything I did, but left me no time for recreation. I then adopted the resolution that three evenings in every week should be devoted to study. This rule I have re-luctiously lived up to and have found it an enormous benefit." As Mrs. Young is a trifle over sixty years of age, her experience in teaching extends over a long period. "I manage," Mrs. Young concluded, "to put in a pretty full day. The alarm clock is my constant bedside companion and arouses me every morning at 6 o'clock sharp. I utilize what time there is before breakfast on odd tasks and directly after the meal leave for school. There I am busy until the afternoon, when I return home and take my daily recreation in my gasoline runabout.

"No; I am not yet a speeder or a 'joy rider,'" she laughed in answer to a query. "I am merely after the air and do not want the whole street. My evenings I devote to my engagements or, as I have told you, to study in my quarters at home, where I have a regular office fitted out with a roller top desk and letter files."

When asked to what sort of study these evening hours were devoted Mrs. Young said her first efforts had been in mathematics. This was followed by specializations in fields of literature. She then became interested in ethics and followed this by work in logic, metaphysics and philosophy, which last she regards as the most engrossing of all subjects and as involving all the rest.

A Poem In Prose.

A woman dresses for a man, to capture him as best she can, by every little fox play her future to assure. Her figure first must fill the bill. She pads and pinches with a will, forms a background for each feil, the tempting game to lure.

With gown of voile, in princess style, with costly silks from orient isle. With fancy "pumps" that cost a pile, she seeks to gratify. For man she wears the gay "glad rags," though of their cost she seldom brags, and yet her spirit never flags until she satisfy.

And when she's lissed fast the "brute" and dropped those ways so coy and cute, she still must sport a new spring suit to vie with all the neighbors. She dresses now for woman's eye. Poor "hubby" stands quite meekly by. He's proud, but sad. With long drawn sigh he thinks of all his labors.

A whole week's work to pay for that luscious, gay peach basket hat. And as for gowns—his purse, once fat, is dying of consumption. For she must dress "like all possessed" to look as stunning as the rest. For woman now is all her zest, for woman all her "gumption."

An Economy.

It is a genuine economy to purchase laundry soap in large quantities and put it away to harden. One gets it for less per bar, of course, and the soap that has been allowed to harden lasts a great deal longer. If it has been purchased in long bars it should be cut into sizes convenient for use before it is put away. High shelves are excellent places for ripening soap, and one housewife always stores hers on the little stairway.

YOUNG LADS CHARGED WITH BURGLARY TELL OF DEEDS

Say That Stolen Goods are Stored in Old Coal Bank in Charleroi

BEING HELD FOR COURT

Both are Said to Have Been Guilty of Numerous Crimes in Monessen

Admitting that they were guilty of burglary, and declaring that the store house of their stolen goods is on the hill at Eighth street, Charleroi, two Polish boys about 12 years old, were held for court by Justice of the Peace Watkins at Monessen yesterday afternoon. The boys were Paul Yenchick, and Tommy Pavick. Both of the boys have criminal records. It is stated, and the second named one has recently returned from the county jail at Greensburg, where he was held in connection with robbery at Saffier's store at Monessen some time ago. The Yenchick boy escaped from this by reason of his parents paying for part of the goods and the costs.

The robbery with which the two boys are charged is that of the confectionary store of Leo Economy, near the Star Theatre, Monessen, on Thursday night. It is supposed that they attended the Star Theatre for the last show, and then secreted themselves in the rear alley, breaking open the place later. A quantity of cigars, candies, cigarettes and a number of other things were taken and then conveyed to a rendezvous on the hill at Monessen, where the plunder was divided.

When the police were notified on Friday morning of the burglary, they immediately suspected the two boys, and investigation gave them further evidence that they were the two really guilty. They were arrested at the homes of their parents, although protests were made and the officers threatened.

The charges against the boys are forcible entry and larceny. Their bail, which they were unable to furnish, was placed at $200, in default of which they were taken to Greensburg this morning. The store house here is said to be at an old coal bank on Eighth street and an investigation is to be made there this afternoon. The boys it is thought, with others, have been in the past year or so, carrying on a series of burglaries, and it is intimated that many charges might be stacked up against them.

Temporary Organization.

A temporary organization of a choral society was formed at a meeting at the M. E. church last night. The organization will be perfected at a meeting to be held next Thursday evening at that place. E. church is the moving spirit in the society, and will be the director. No officers were elected last night, these to be chosen at a future meeting.

Ormand of Princeton University.

SURPRISE AT PRODUCTION OF LETTERS

A decided sensation was caused in the Ward-Drum trial yesterday when the Commonwealth introduced two letters which evidently came as a surprise. These letters are considered among the strongest pieces of evidence yet offered in the case being built up against the former cashier of the bank of Coal Centre and the Pittsburgh real estate man and promoter.

Much time was consumed yesterday in untangling the ways employed in the extensive note system by which it is alleged Ward and Drum defrauded the bank to the extent of thousands of dollars. Expert accountants, bank examiners and former employees of Ward, who had been engaged in the securing of signers for these alleged worthless notes were the principal witnesses of the day.

A. K. Young, a former employee in the Standard Car and Foundry company was the first note witness and he identified many of the notes which he himself had signed and which persons financially irresponsible had signed at his request.

Causing Trouble.

The new Lincoln penny is causing all kinds of trouble throughout the country. The first kick came from the penny-in-the-slot machines people, who found the new penny would not work in the machines, and now comes the telephone companies with a howl that a Lincoln penny will work perfectly in their nickel slot machines, much to their loss. As no change can be made in the design of a coin within less than 25 years, it looks as though the coinage would have to cease or the slot machine people would have to make changes in their machines.

DIABOLICAL SCHEME FOR ROBBERY OF COUNTRYMEN

Monongahela Italian is Committed to Jail to Await a Court Trial on Charge of Highway Robbery

The commitment of Tony Calasto to the county jail last evening brought to light a system of blackmail by which Italians of the Monongahela section have been getting hundreds and perhaps thousands of dollars. The revelations were not made until after Pasquale Gianjira, one of Calasto's alleged victims nearly had his eyes gouged out because he refused to pay $50 for personal protection. It was he that preferred the charge against Calasto.

WIRING CONTRACT AWARDED TO FIRM OF MONONGAHELA

Seventy-Five New Houses Being Erected Now at Marianna

The McCurdy Hardware and Supply company of Monongahela has been awarded the contract for the electric wiring of seventy five houses, now in course of erection at Marianna, by the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company. Work on the contract has already been taken up by the company, and will be pushed with all speed to completion. The work will require a large amount of wire, as well as quite a length of time to complete it. The work of wiring will be pushed as rapidly as the construction of the houses will permit, although it is not expected they will be completed until some time in the fall. The Pittsburgh-Buffalo company also expects to build many more houses at that point, for the accommodation of their miners, their number increasing as rapidly as the working of the mine will permit. The houses are of high grade, and away beyond the ordinary tenement to which the people of the river district are accustomed.

Picnic Held on Date of Their Thirteenth Anniversary of Marriage

DAY WAS ONE OF PLEASURE

The Presbyterian Sunday school held an old fashioned picnic yesterday in Timan's Grove, near Charleroi. The day was enjoyed in a good old fashioned way and at lunch time the "as one family" features of the day's enjoyment were sports of various natures, including a baseball game between the single and the married men. In this the score was a tie, 5 to 5.

There was rather a surprise, when the announcement was made that the date was the thirteenth anniversary of the marriage of Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Hackett. Rev. Baker of Belle Vernon was present, and a mock marriage ceremony was performed. Rev. and Mrs. Hackett, were made the recipients of beautiful presents. One of the guests present yesterday, Mrs. Elizabeth Craig, took with her an invitation to Rev. Hackett's wedding thirteen years ago and it was read. During the day ice cream was served free to the persons in attendance.

Meeting Called for Monday Afternoon in Pittsburg Coal Offices

HOPED TO SETTLE TROUBLE

State Mining Department Expected to Take Part in This Special Session

National President T. L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has again taken a hand in the powder controversy of the miners of the Pittsburg Coal company and has issued a call for a meeting of the powder committee for Monday afternoon at the offices of the Pittsburg Coal company. Miners, operators and representatives of the State Mining Department will attend.

Fifteen mines of the Pittsburg Coal company are idle because the miners refuse to use the so-called safety explosives provided for by law, unless they be paid on a run-of-mine basis.

The mines affected are along the Pittsburg and Lake Erie, the Pittsburg, McKeesport and Youghiogheny and the P. V. and C. railroads. From the same controversy mines of other companies along the Monongahela and Youghiogheny rivers are closed down, and it is understood that other companies having large holdings in the district are holding off to learn the result of the conference, until they too declare that carbonite must be used on other than the run of mine basis.

Officers of the Pittsburg Coal company say that they are merely conducting a strike.

That Garbage Wagon.

While people have been complaining of the garbage wagon nuisance existing in Charleroi for some time, and the Mail has been defending them in their complaints, there has been very little said of the old garbage wagon. It was stated last spring and generally accepted as fact that this affair for which the taxpayers of Charleroi had paid a snug sum of money, was worn out—has been left exposed to all kinds of weather and rusted until it was of no practical use. Yes, it was worn out all right—a small portion of wood under the bed was broken. It has been repaired and is now in apparently as good condition as far as usefulness is concerned as at the date of its purchase. The affair now rests in a nook of the borough building.

The main trouble with this wagon and it may be stated in justification of the garbage man's claims, is that it is entirely a wagon for hauling what may be termed "slop." There is no place for the accommodation of barrels or such like on the wagon, and it is argued that the job is not one that will warrant the making of two trips to a place, simply to get what might be carried in one load.

That doesn't solve the problem, however, and doesn't provide relief for the people, who must "smell and suffer." The garbage man is under contract to handle garbage in an improved and sanitary manner. It is the place of the Health Officer and the board of health to see that the laws regarding sanitation are obeyed, and if they are not, to see that the offenders are punished. It has been mentioned that in some places the ordinary wagon is used, containing a water-tight bed with high sides, and that over this there are lids that may be closed down or opened as the case may be. Such would permit the conveying of not only the ordinary refuse but could also be utilized for the hauling of barrels and other articles. This would seem to be the only method of providing a means of relief that would be satisfactory to all.

The Strike Situation.

The National Labor Tribune published at Pittsburg advises the strike leaders at McKees Rocks to rely on court proceedings against Mr. Hoffstot who has already been charged with peonage, and to use every endeavor to prevent further slaughter.

It publishes the following common sense editorial concerning the strike:

"We are assured the more responsible leaders recognize the disastrous effect of violence on the strike. The difficulty is to check the hotheads, men who have suffered great injury and who are faced by starvation because they dared to ask that their wrongs be righted, are not easily held in bounds. There is much that tends to drive them to desperation, nevertheless they must be given to understand by their best and most trusted advisers that resistance to the lawful authorities is bound to be fatal. They and not Mr. Hoffstot will suffer most from it in the end."

The First.

What was mere rumor of a month ago concerning the industrial improvements to be made at Newell, is now a known fact. The contract for the construction of two buildings has been awarded and actual work will begin in a few days. In connection with a discussion of these improvements, it is not out of place to say that the first announcement of the intentions of the General Chemical company to erect the large plants at Newell was made in the Mail. Not another newspaper in the country had the least inkling of it up until the time that the Mail unearthed it, and set it going. Since then prediction has rounded into fact, and the Mail's prophesy in regard to the plant has been verified. This only illustrates the fact that the Mail has better news service than any paper the size in the valley, and is better equipped for the securing of news that is strictly new. There are some more improvements to be made along the valley in the near future that will make considerable of a change. Announcement has already been made of these and people are watching for further developments.

Electric Sparks

The New Castle Herald states that "Beaver Falls is nearly frantic about its garbage collection," but evidently forget that Charleroi is worse than frantic.

STRAWS BLOW SAME OLD WAY

Democrats Worried Over Encouraging Situation Following Adoption of the New Tariff Act

EXPLODED IDEAS ADVANCED

State Democracy in Cowardly Fashion Resorts to Subterfuge of Expression in its Tariff Plank—Magnitude of Senator Penrose's Labors Appreciated.

The new tariff law seems to be a source of unmitigated distress to William Jennings Bryan. He does not approve of the customs schedules and he claims to have a copyright on the corporation tax idea.

The Pennsylvania Democracy in its recent convention at Harrisburg declared in its platform that the new tariff law was an imposition upon the consumer and wage-earner, and in direct violation of the promises of the Republican party and its platform, and that it was framed for the benefit of special interests and against those who purchased the necessities of life. This declaration is absolutely false in every particular, and is, in fact, a declaration in favor of a tariff for revenue only. But as The Keystone Gazette of Bellefonte wisely remarks, the Pennsylvania Democracy resorted to a subterfuge of expression because it was too cowardly to clearly commit the party to free trade.

Straws indicate the way in which the wind blows. The distress of Bryan and the false declaration made by the Democracy of this Commonwealth are straws indicative of the latest futile effort the Democrats will attempt with the expectation of resuscitating their party and redeeming it from the false gods it has been worshipping for the last half century. The Democrats are trying to make a handle out of the opposition of the so-called "progressive" Republicans in urging that the Republican party's promises concerning the tariff should be redeemed in revising the tariff downward. But the fact still remains that no promise was made in the Republican platform, or by the Republican party as a whole, to revise the tariff in any way except upon protective lines and the revision that has actually occurred has been upon protective lines; in other words, the protective feature in the new tariff measure provides for the difference between the cost of production in other countries and the United States, adding thereto a reasonable profit to the manufacturer in this country.

As The Bellefonte Gazette further remarks: "The history of protective legislation in this country has conclusively shown that a protective tariff has cheapened the price of all manufactured articles to the consumer. Before the policy of protection became a fundamental principle, accepted by a majority of the people of the Nation and was enacted into law, all imported goods, when our markets were controlled by European nations, cost the consumer from one to three and four times what they do now. Cotton goods, hardware, steel and in fact everything we as a people imported, cost fully three or four times as much as they do now, while our agricultural products brought, on the average, less than one-half what the farmer now realizes on the results of his labor. The competition created by our own mills and manufacturing has in a few years reduced the price to the consumer and the tariff duty was, and is in reality, paid by the exporter, as he has to take a smaller price for the wares and merchandise he exports. So to declare that the tariff is a tax on the consumer is not true, but is the same cry that the free trade Democracy has been making for the past 60 years, and the Pennsylvania Democracy, under the disguise of persiflage and verbiage commits itself to the old Bourbon Democratic idea of free trade."

The tariff measure now on the statute books, as has been stated, is a revision of the tariff in exact fulfillment of the promises and platform of the Republican party. It was revised on the principles of protection to American labor and American industry, and for the benefit and welfare of the whole country. Already its beneficial effects are being realized by the starting into active operation of the mills and manufacturing and the enlargement of the same.

Increased employment, to thousands of working men and women. That such a satisfactory tariff law is now in force and effect is due in no small measure to the unwearied and intelligent efforts put forth by Senator Boies Penrose, who in his position as the third member of the Senate Finance committee was the most potent adviser of Chairman Aldrich during the consideration of this important legislation and whose advice was sought by many others.

Senator Penrose occupied this conspicuous position because for over two months he devoted from 16 to 18 hours every day to investigation and study of the various schedules of the bill, and in meeting interested delegations of manufacturers and he met every body who dared to discuss the bill with him and listened patiently to all arguments for and against its different provisions. In this way he made a record for hard work and came to be considered as one of the most methodical, studious and efficient Senators. With Senator Penrose on guard the varied interests of Pennsylvania will always be properly looked after.

During the last regular session of Congress Senator Penrose, as chairman of the Postoffice and Post Roads committee, had charge of the Postal Appropriation bill which carried an appropriation of $234,000,000, and which he succeeded in having passed finally in less than four hours' time. He understood the provisions of this great bill so thoroughly and had the measure so well in hand that he was able to answer all questions asked by the several Senators with such tact and clearness that the time consumed for its consideration was a record for this class of legislation. When a Senator can call up a bill of this one and pass it usually in less than four hours, his colleagues must have undoubted faith in his integrity and his standing must be unquestioned.

"Briefly," as The Dispatch & Republican of Mercer sums it up, "Senator Penrose has a masterly mind, a strong and vigorous constitution and a high conception of his responsibilities. His State and country will receive at all times at his hands paramount consideration."

Some Consolation.

A detective once said it was all wrong to suppose that the professional housebreaker works with coolness and calculation. On the contrary, he usually works in terror and haste, takes too much swag from one room and too little from another and sometimes overlooks the silver in carrying off the electro.—London Saturday Review.

Olden Tea Table Etiquette.

Tea table etiquette was somewhat complicated in the days of that "hardened and shameless tea-drinker," Dr. Johnson, when many people thought nothing of drinking ten or twelve cups at a sitting. It was considered proper for the cups and saucers of a party of tea drinkers to be all passed up to the hostess in one batch when replenishment was considered necessary, and in order that each person might be sure of getting back the right cup, the teaspoons were numbered. When the cups were passed up those who did not require any more were supposed to place the spoon in the cup. And this writer remembers a very ancient dame teaching a small boy to place his spoon in his cup after the first cup had been emptied. He wondered for the reason. Now he knows that tea was once very expensive, and little boys were not expected to ask again.—St. James' Gazette.

Private Hospital Guests.

"Hello, old man! Didn't know you were in New York? Where are you stopping?"

"Glad to see you. I'm at a private hospital up town."

"Private hospital! Why, I'm sorry. What's the trouble?"

"No trouble at all myself. My sister went down for an operation, and I'm staying with her. There are plenty of patients there with relatives or friends. We pay high prices, of course, but the rooms are light, comfortable and clean, and we can order anything on earth we want for meals and get it. Things are served to us as though we were invalids, and there's no kick coming. I'll tell you that. And we can have as much company as we wish for meals at a dollar and a half a head."—New York Press.

The Sneeze.

There exists an ancient semi-medical statement which tells us that the sneeze is healthy and should not be suppressed. It is one of those stock sayings which are always uttered by laymen on the vague authority of some traditional doctor whose name is suppressed in favor of the adjective "eminent." It is one of the things about which you mentally pledge yourself to ask your own doctor, but when it comes to the point you never do. Either you do not get the opportunity or if a chance does present itself an inner voice seems to warn you to let it be until some future occasion. To our own mind the odds are that sneezing is a wholesome habit, for it is an unpleasant one. Of course there are people who can sneeze and not feel ridiculous, but they are few. Any one caught in the act of trying to suppress a sneeze is a terrible addition to the landscape, and if you want to sneeze and cannot what garb could hold a canny to you? That sneeze, you count on, that quivering mouth and that deflected nostril—why, your countenance is something worth building two cathedrals round! It is as though some mad power were gripping your facial clay and wrenching it this way and that to amuse his frenzied humor. Have you ever heard a succession of half a dozen sneezes? It is an experience that has an extraordinarily irritating effect.—London Globe.

A Spa's Curious Origin.

The discovery of the famous Woodhall spa in Lincolnshire was very curious. Just about a hundred years ago a shaft was sunk in search of coal, but the effort had to be abandoned owing to a rush of water. In time the water found its way into a small brook, and in due course the inhabitants began to speak of the curative powers of the stream. Science investigated the mystery and discovered that the water in the coal shaft was richly impregnated with various salts and bromine and iodine. Geologists expressed the opinion that the water had come from the sandy bed of a shallow lagoon or bay of a tropical sea where seaweeds of giant growth abounded. A mighty convulsion of nature lowered the sea bed, a great river flowed over the place, and in time its debris was formed into a mass of spongy rock or sandstone. Forcing itself through this mass at great pressure some 600 feet below the ground, the water now exudes the constituents of the original seaweed.—London Family Herald.

Beauty Baths.

A most excellent tonic bath is the salt bath. Before retiring at night dissolve a couple of ounces of sea salt in hot water and when you rise next morning fill the tub half full of water and add the sea salt before you will emerge from your morning plunge in a perfect glow after a brisk rub with a coarse towel. Every nerve will tingle, and you will see a soft glow glow on the skin.

A chamois-bath bag filled with a pound of artemisia and twined in a warm "tail" gives splendidly restful and head-clearing results.

The only conclusive evidence of a man's sincerity is that he give himself for a principle.—Lowell.

SEVEN YEARS AHEAD

The manager of one of the greatest typewriter companies in the world, said to Mr. Douglas of Douglas College, recently

"You are seven years ahead

of the schools around Pittsburg in teaching typewriting. They are just now adopting the methods that you were using seven years ago.

It is worth repeating, for everyone does not know it, that Douglas College now holds the State Championship in Typewriting. It was their modern methods that won over the old.

But how about today?

The same methods are employed—with seven years of added experience. Douglas graduates can do a third more work by our scientific methods of operating the machine without any strain of the eyes, than can those that use the old sight method. Isn't it worth while to get the best?

By taking this course you can get a good position

The demand for capable young men and young women will soon be far in excess of the supply. Mr. Adams, manager of the Douglas College, does not expect to be able to fill the positions that will be open in the near future for graduates of the College.

Is the best too good for you?

For the ambitious young man or young woman this is the time for action. Wishing will not accomplish anything. It's work that wins. You can improve your condition if you will. Enter school now and be ready to accept a good position when the opportunity is presented.

HANDICAPPED

This is the Case with Charleroi People.

Too many Charleroi citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stopping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Can you doubt Charleroi evidence?

Mrs. Charles Bromwick, 114 Washington avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "About two years ago I suffered from a severe attack of kidney disease and although I used many remedies I was unable to obtain relief. My head ached almost constantly. I

Man Not Even the Second Fiddle Nor Drummer.

Professor Emil Hetch in his work on "Woman Through All the Ages" delicately insinuates that in American life she is "the whole orchestra." He says: "These women—the American maid and wife—are fundamentally different from their sisters in Europe, whether in the past or present. Far from taking the slightest interest in man, they look down upon him. Man in America plays neither first nor second fiddle. He does not even beat the drum. He is the mere lamp-lighter of the orchestra of life in the United States."

"Nothing is more common in the States than to be asked by one of their 'bright' women: 'How do you do this or that thing?' What trick have you for doing it? In their minds, in their inmost minds, they are firmly convinced that * * * all the great artists have their 'tricks' with which they work upon the audience. In native elemental talent they do not believe at all. How could they? They have themselves not the trace of such talent. There are over 12,000,000 pianos in American houses, used mostly by women, yet there is not a single American pianist of even the third order. There are thousands of schools for American women, yet there is not a single American woman of note as a scholar."

I calmly state that the American woman is not and cannot be anything like the type of womanhood that, from the Hellenes downward, all European nations have considered as the right model. Women, then, in America cannot be anything like the women of that peculiar charm of either beauty or grace that in Europe has always been held to be the greatest power of women.

The last word, then, in American womanhood is this, that they represent actually what the ancient Greek myths of myths they be represented symbolically—a realm of man. The old Greek amazon is, indeed, the exact archetype of the woman of the United States.

SUMMER HEADACHES.

Cure Them by Reducing Amount of Meat Eaten.

The warm weather is very conducive to headaches. In fact, some people claim they feel the best so that they become easily fatigued and irritated. Unless these people take very good care of themselves they may easily acquire the habit of invalidism and suffer throughout the summer months. The sun may cause one head to ache by reflecting the light into the eyes, but the average headache is caused by the heat of the sun. I had pains in my back and was tired nearly all the time. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I procured a box at Piper Bros. drug store. In a very few days I felt their beneficial effect and a continued use of the remedy effected a complete cure. I have had no return of kidney trouble since and am consequently glad to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

WOMEN WANT TO FLY.

But Only One So Far Has Invented Her Own Machine.

Interest in the science of flying has not been confined to men. Women also have taken to aerial navigation with a vengeance. It is a thing of questionable safety, few of them have been allowed to take the risk. It is interesting to know, says Vogue, that it was a woman, Mrs. Alexander Graham Bell, who conceived the idea of forming the Aerial Experiment association, of which her husband was the most conspicuous member. Mrs. Bell suggested the formation of the association and made the proposition to furnish the funds with which to carry on the experiments.

More than fifty women in this country have made ascents in spherical balloons, but Mrs. C. J. S. Miller of Franklin, Pa., holds the record of being the only woman to go up in a dirigible. Wilbur Wright has taken up six women, including his sister, Miss Katherine Wright. Mrs. Leon Rollee, Mrs. Lazar Weiler, Countess Lambert and Mrs. Hart Berg. While staying in Paris Miss Anne Morgan witnessed a flight and immediately asked Mr. Wright to take her up, but at that time it was not considered safe to do so. Miss Morgan is deeply interested in the subject, and it is said that she wishes to form an aeronautic club.

Miss E. L. Todd of New York is the first woman to invent an aeroplane. She now has her machine ready for the installment of the motor and expects to drive it herself. Among other prominent American women who have made ascensions in spherical balloons are Mrs. Cortlandt Field Bishop, Mrs. Newbold Le Roy Edgar of New York, Mrs. C. A. Cody of Chicago and Miss Natalie Forbes, daughter of A. Holland Forbes. Mrs. Cody, who is an enthusiastic navigator of the air, declares that she felt less alarm in making her first balloon ascent than she did when taking her first automobile ride.

With regard to this most important matter, most people who suffer with sick heads, are really suffering from liver attacks. Meat, fish, soup, stock, all become quickly tainted, and this season, and tainted food is likely to be the cause of illness at any time of year.

The woman who cares for the health of the family will see that she does not use meat, fish, or stock goods to any extent, and of course the last mentioned must not be kept after the tin has once been opened.

It is important to reduce the amount of meat and starchy foods during this weather. The main function of these is to supply bodily heat, so as less heat is necessary now the style of living should be changed. Take the appetite as an indication of how much you should eat. If you are not keen for your meals do not worry. If your head aches try one week of light diet. Take plenty of milk, eggs, bread and butter, ripe fruit and a few green vegetables.

In this way you will give your system a chance to get rid of whatever poisons are in your blood and will prevent high blood pressure, which is really the cause of throbbing headache.

Mrs. Pankhurst to Come Here.

To add to the excitement of the war for and against votes for women which is to be waged in New York next winter word has just come from England by cable to Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch that the redoubtable Mrs. Pankhurst, originator of the suffragette movement in England and leader of its most militant branch, will visit America at that time. She will do so, that is, if she is not sent to jail first. She is at present involved in a lawsuit as to the right of a subject to petition the powder in person, and her friends expect her to go to jail in the end, but they hope that she will manage to get to America first.

Mrs. Pankhurst will remain in the country six or seven weeks, and while in New York her engagements will be managed by the League of Self Supporting Women, of which Mrs. Blatch is president. Among other things there will be a Carnegie hall meeting in her honor.

Beware of Flies.

There is a great menace to health in the summer months, and that is the fly. Flies are everywhere, and therefore babies must be carefully protected from them. The fly causes a great deal of trouble, and is the chief disseminator of many diseases. Therefore during the summer every mother should make increasing warfare on the common household pest. The number of bacteria on a single fly may be as high as 100,000. Early in the season the number of bacteria is comparatively small, but it increases with the progress of the summer. Flies are all food.

Handy Cooking Utensil.

A Fuel Saving Device That Cooks Three Vegetables at Once.

Time, power and space are saved by the cooking utensils designed by an Ohio man, and all housekeepers will readily understand the merits of this article by merely glancing at the illustration. This utensil consists of a steamer pan with three separate compartments in which three vegetables may be cooked at once over one fire on a stove or one flame of a gas range. The pan comprises a skeleton frame of bottom and top hoops and side bars and three receptacles, one taking up half of the capacity and the others being quarters. Each of these receptacles has a clip which fits over the rim of the frame and by which it may be lifted into place or out again. As each of these vessels is separate it is not necessary that the vegetables to be cooked in them require the same length of time. As one is done the partition can be lifted out. Such a utensil when used on a gas stove uses up only one-third as much gas as under ordinary conditions.

FASHIONABLE ROMPING.

English Lament on the Decay of Deportment.

It is all very well to hold up the bands in horror at the romping in fashionable ballrooms—and no doubt the lack of grace therein displayed is deplorable, says the Lady's Pictorial—but one must give people what they want. They will not come and tread stately measures, but they will romp, and one must find maintain, therefore, that those hostesses are wise who try to make their guests enjoy themselves. After all, we do not invite our friends to our houses in order to teach them deportment. It seems practically useless to give a dance at all this season unless a cotillon with absolutely novel figures is included in the program. Now, the cotillon is not a dance, strictly speaking. You can chase, run, skip, leap, through it if you like. It does not make for elegance. Yet there is no question about it, it is indispensable this season, and to this favor we must come if, when we pipe in our guests we expect them to dance at all.

Child's Allowance.

To encourage children to save money give them as many pennies each week as they are years old and allow them to save it. When each has saved $5 he is in a bank and due to it each year. It is a very little beginning, but children with money in a real bank are very desirous of adding more to it. By the time the little folks are grown there will be a good bank account, which will be helpful during college days.

Woman's World

TO HEAD SCHOOL SYSTEM.

First Woman to Be Chosen Superintendent of Chicago Schools. Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, former principal of the Chicago Normal School, has recently been chosen by the school board of the Windy City as superintendent of schools to succeed E. G. Cooley, resigned.

This is the first time a woman in the United States has held such a position, and Mrs. Young by her recent appointment has been promoted from a position paying $5,000 to one to which a salary of $10,000 is attached.

In an interview the newly elected superintendent expressed her pleasure at being the first woman to hold such a position and outlined her policy as one of unification of all interests. "When I first began teaching," she said in speaking of her work, "I made the mistake of supposing that every day I should do something in the way of study and making myself my regular work. I found out, however, that a continual press of extra work and social engagements not only rushed me in everything I did, but left me no time for recreation. I then adopted the resolution that three evenings in every week should be devoted to study. This rule I have re-ligerously lived up to and have found it an enormous benefit." As Mrs. Young is a trifle over sixty years of age, her experience in teaching extends over a long period. "I manage," Mrs. Young concluded, "to put in a pretty full day. The alarm clock is my constant bedside companion and arouses me every morning at 6 o'clock sharp. I utilize what time there is before breakfast on odd tasks and directly after the meal leave for school. There I am busy until the afternoon, when I return home and take my daily recreation in my gasoline runabout.

"No; I am not yet a speeder or a 'joy rider,'" she laughed in answer to a query. "I am merely after the air and do not want the whole street. My evenings I devote to my engagements or, as I have told you, to study in my quarters at home, where I have a regular office fitted out with a roller top desk and letter files."

When asked to what sort of study these evening hours were devoted Mrs. Young said her first efforts had been in mathematics. This was followed by specializations in fields of literature. She then became interested in ethics and followed this by work in logic, metaphysics and philosophy, which last she regards as the most engrossing of all subjects and as involving all the rest.

A Poem In Prose.

A woman dresses for a man, to capture him as best she can, by every little fox plan her future to assure. Her figure first must fill the bill. She pads and pinches with a will, forms a background for each frail, the tempting game to lure.

With gown of voile, in princess style, with costly silks from orient isle. With fancy "pumps" that cost a pile, she seeks to gratify. For man she wears the gay "glad rags" though of their cost she seldom brags, and yet her spirit never flags until she satisfies.

And when she's lassoed fat the "brute" and dropped those ways so coy and cute, she still must sport a new spring suit to vie with all the neighbors. She dresses now for woman's eye. Poor "hulky" stands quite meekly by. He's proud, but sad. With long drawn sigh he thinks of all his labors.

A whole week's work to pay for that uncanny, gay peach basket hat. And as for gowns—his purse, once fat, is dying of consumption. For she must dress "like all possessed" to look as stunning as the rest. For woman now is all her zest, for woman all her "gumption."

An Economy.

It is a genuine economy to purchase laundry soap in large quantities and put it away to harvest. One gets 17 1/2 less per bar, of course, and the soap that has been allowed to harden lasts a great deal longer. If it has been purchased in long bars, it should be cut into sizes convenient for use before it is put away. High shelves are excellent places for ripening soap, and one housewife always stores hers on the little stairway.
